Heifetz Plays
Two Kinds of Crowds
Knowledge Born in Us
Heroes and Hero Worship
Current Events

—By Arthur Brisbane—

IN RUSSIA, about twenty years ago, a prodigious child played the violin. His father watched and marveled. Little Jascha, proud that the boy, still in his babyhood, knew almost all that the father knew of playing.

NEIGHBORS said: "It's a shame that Heifetz spends his whole day listening to his little boy practice, and correcting him, when he might be working for his family."

But the father played his violin in the theatre orchestra and kept his family that way.

YESTERDAY afternoon, at Carnegie Hall in New York, little Jascha, grown to be a tall young man, played a better violin, with every seat to the great hall filled, every ticket for standing room sold. His father from Russia sat close in front, still listening to his little boy playing.

In two hours that little boy earned more money than his father could have earned in Russia in a whole lifetime. So the neighbors were wrong.

Sometimes it pays to concentrate on making money, and sometimes it pays to concentrate on your little boy's talent.

FAR MORE important than infamously, that boy, with his violin, made it possible yesterday for thousands to begin the New Year in an atmosphere of beauty and inspiration—the music of Bach and Grieg played as the writers meant to have it played, lighting "a new path" according to its power, thought, hope and aspiration.

YOU HAVE read in this column of crowds that attend a great prize fight when a Fistic Champion or other champion is dangerous to prove which is the greater brute.

We have here other crowds, fortunately. The crowd that gathered yesterday to hear an artist of great talent was as different from a typical prize ring crowd as water in the rainbow is different from water in the gutter.

You saw thousands of inspired faces at the concert yesterday; old men and women, the years lifted from them by the power of music; earnest young students, excited for a chance to stand through the afternoon, unconscious of fatigue.

And the prize ring crowds seemed less important. You knew that infatuated at the top of the human race is dragging upward the brutality at the bottom, in spite of itself.

WHEN comes the power checked by the Russian Jew, child in infancy, barely three years old?

"It acquired character," as some scientists say, he is not a child, what child that child to handle a violin, at ten years of age, as marvelously that old and talented player, hearing him at a concert in Berlin, said: "We might as well go home and break our willow. That child does now what we shall never be able to do."

OUR RACE is at most one or two hundred thousand years old. We are only 12,000 years ago from the Stone Age, when the only music was the sounds made by some hunter imitating the call of a wild animal, or by rhythmic beating of a hairy hand on a skin stretched tight.

THE human brain has been starting up, knowledge and taste, feeling from excretion to generation, children liberating what the fathers and mothers gathered in their fire and handed on.

THAT BOY handling a violin in infancy, knowledge and taste, feeling from excretion to generation, children liberating what the fathers and mothers gathered in their fire and handed on.

MISS NORMAN IN SHOOTING

HOT AFTER CHAUFFEUR WOUNDS OL' MAN

Edna Purviance, Chaplin's Leading Woman, Is Also Killed in Shooting

Los Angeles, Jan. 2. (E.N.S.)—Chaplin's film, wealthy chairman and oil operator who was shot by H. A. Greer, chauffeur for Mabel Normand, was reported at the hospital today as being in a critical condition.

Los Angeles, Jan. 2.—The severe shooting administered by the police early today to Mabel Normand, film actress of international fame, following the alleged admission of the actress' chauffeur that he had shot a man in her presence is rocking the film world as it has not been shaken since the mysterious killing in Hollywood two years ago of Wilbur Desmond Taylor.

The man under arrest as a result of his own admission gives the name of R. C. Greer, and also has been known as "Red" Kelley. The victim of the shooting is Courtland S. Dimes, a wealthy operator in oil and the son of one of the leading financiers of California.

Greer, a police officer that he shot "just for a good cause," "claiming that he desired to remove a bullet from Dimes' lung, police enquired in detail some coherent explanation of the affair from the two film stars.

Greer, who questioned the four persons in the shooting, declared that the real motive still was a mystery to him.

The incident took place in Dimes' apartment at No. 1202 North Vermont street. Those present included Dimes, Miss Normand, the chauffeur, and Miss Purviance, who recently played opposite to Chaplin in his latest creation, "A Woman of Paris."

CHATTER SUBSIDES. The first information of the shooting last night came from the police brought by Greer, or Kelley, when he was taken to the police station and, leaving a 20-caliber automatic pistol and a charge said: "Here, take this thing. It's just a guy at 'Third and Vermont' with it."

Because of the rather wild-eyed appearance of Greer the officers present did not place much credence in his story at first, and he was ordered to sit down and talk things over while a wagonload of patrolmen and detectives were hurried to the apartment house to investigate.

FIND WOMAN IN FLAT. According to the police, the victim found Mabel Normand and the chauffeur still in the house. Continued on Page 3, Col. 2.

American Changed Today; It's Better and Greater

ARTHUR BRISBANE

The American appears today, changed, but vigorous. It has discarded its green dress and comes in colors. BUT—

It has taken on weight, and we hope you will like it. Comics are no longer colored, but there are more of them. You will find them on Pages 10 and 19, fifteen different "funnies," also jokes.

On Page 17 is a bigger and better Woman's Page, with the best features and fiction for Madam and Miss.

Pathe's Financial Page is on Page 16. On Page 1 is Arthur Brisbane's famous "Today" column; on the back page the contributions of the most famous thinkers of the day—Dr. Frank Crane, Herbert Kaufman and others; great editorials and a new feature by Elsie Robinson, as well as the Helping Hand department.

Between Page 1 and this great Editorial Page you will find two great sport pages, up-to-the-minute news and features.

We trust the American will be your daily companion throughout the gladdest New Year.

SEEK ESCORT IN DEATH OF BEAUTY

Police Eager to Question the Friend of Girl Who Died During New Year Revels

Cumberland, R. I., Jan. 2.—A fractured skull sustained in a fall which marked the close of a night of revelry was responsible for the death of Celia Crawley, twenty-four, Providence beauty parlor worker.

The girl was found unconscious on the steps of the 1101 Chestnut Hill road, by a waitress and a police officer. Her companion, Frank B. Waterman, No. 1225 Westminster street, Providence, was questioned following the accident.

The young woman died at the Woonsocket hospital, five hours after she was admitted to the institution.

Investigation by the police and the findings of the medical examiner's autopsy indicate that the young woman fell on the icy steps of the hotel after a night of revelry, during which a number of road houses were visited.

DEATH OF GAY PARTIES.

Battle in the night, Waterman and Miss Crawley and another companion were at the Admiral Inn, Cumberland. Chief Michael Pinner, of Cumberland police, found quantities of liquor and wild automobile rides over about covered by the snow in the celebration.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOOD PRICE INQUIRY

High Lights of Governor's 1924 Recommendations

Following are the principal recommendations in the final annual message of Governor Cox to the Legislature:

Biennial sessions of the General Court.
Increased debt limit for cities and towns.
Budgets for all cities and towns.
An unpaid commission to study food supply.
Provisions for care of female defective delinquents and male defective delinquents under the age of seventeen.
Authority for the Governor to dispose of the Norfolk State Hospital to be returned to the State June 30, 1924.
Revision of motor vehicle taxation.
An unpaid commission to study fire losses.
Commission to report a plan for participation by Massachusetts in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Revolution.
Application of the $2,000,000 bonus tax surplus to the creation of a war memorial.

RIOT OF AUTOISTS QUELLED BY POLICE

Thousands of cheering persons were gathered near the line at Cambridgeport, where they were to be accompanied to their automobiles today.

They waited for the line of the 1924 model cars, which began to move at 11 a.m. Out of 150,000 people only 10,000 remained to see to be done. If these were sufficient other applicants will be issued licenses until other plates can be made.

FOUR FAMILIES FLEE BLAZE IN LAWRENCE

Lawrence, Jan. 2.—Four families, including four women and three children, fled to the street today during a fire in the top floor of the apartment at No. 312 Chestnut street.

Mrs. Mary Hogan, a tenant, said that she was in the room when the fire broke out. She was unable to save her belongings. The other tenants, Mrs. Mary Hogan and Mrs. Mary Hogan, fled to the street. The fire was caused by a gas stove.

GOV.-GEN. WOOD MENTIONED IN STOCK FRAUD

Name Alleged to Have Been Used in Sales Made to Service Men

New York, Jan. 2.—A disclosure of the Post Office Department in the city has begun a searching investigation into the activities of the American Protective Corporation, of which Leonard Wood, Jr., son of Governor General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, is president. The purpose is to ascertain if the name was used to defraud investors in the stock of the company.

A similar inquiry has been begun by the Department of Justice. The purpose is to learn if any of the U. S. army have, since the purchase of the stock, been defrauded by the corporation in the sale of more than $1,000,000 in stock, now worthless, largely because of the fraud.

They were asked to reveal their names on the list of representatives of the American Protective Corporation, which Governor General Wood sold to the U. S. army. The list of names of the company revealed that Leonard Wood, Jr., was a "very close friend" of the president.

More details of the alleged sale of the stock of the American Protective Corporation, which Governor General Wood sold to the U. S. army, are being obtained by the U. S. army. The list of names of the company revealed that Leonard Wood, Jr., was a "very close friend" of the president.

During the month of December a great many of the famous AMPICOS, ART MODEL CHICKERING PIANOS and other Chickering instruments were sold into the finest homes in New England.

The Players—Grands and Uprights, which, up to this time had occupied places of honor in these homes, were sent us for an allowance in exchange. These we have had put into excellent condition and have listed them in the January Sale at prices so low that we expect a quick and complete clearance in a few days. Call early for choice.

Every Piano Carries the Guarantee of Chickering & Sons

It is no longer necessary to buy an unguaranteed and unconditioned used piano—neither is it necessary to pay other than an economical price for any used piano regardless of its name.

The old idea of selling used pianos in their unconditioned, out-of-repair state, without guarantee, has no place in the Chickering policy—The New Idea of Chickering & Sons to thoroughly recondition every used piano at the Chickering factory—having it put into the playing condition by artist Chickering craftsmen has won the confidence of people who appreciate good service and a square deal.

Uprights From $85

Players From $325

Grands From $250

including such makes as Schubert Steinway Steiff Mason & Hamlin Hardman Ivers & Pond Brewster Knabe And Many Others

Terms as low as $10.00 per week

Full Protection to all purchasers in event of illness or death

Money Value Guarantee Full allowance in exchange for new piano

30 Day Trial Money Back If Not Pleased

THE FORMER OWNERS OF THESE INSTRUMENTS DID NOT DISPOSE OF THEM BECAUSE THEIR USEFULNESS WAS IMPAIRED, BUT THEY HEARD THE INCOMPARABLE AMPICO AND EXCHANGED THESE FINE PIANOS FOR THAT MARVELOUS INSTRUMENT.

YOUTH, 23, SAYS BRIDE, 60, IS BETTER THAN "FLUFFIES"

HERE YES WON HIM HE SAYS

Takes Over Sole Management of New Jersey Widow's Candy Store

By JOHN K. WINKLER
Arbor, N. J., Jan. 2 (By Universal).—The Widow Milan's kitchen needed painting. Young Ernest Rice, who had been helpful in a hundred ways to her since the death of her husband last April, volunteered.

He was on the ladder busily whitening the spot that marked the sudden end of the champion neurotologist of 1912, when the Widow Milan addressed him thus:

A NICE BOY.
"Ernest, you're an awfully nice boy. Have you ever thought of getting married?"

Ernest almost dropped his brush but managed to stammer:

"Yes, ma'am, when the right girl comes along I am going to ask her to marry me."

The old lady who is sixty turned her dark eyes full upon Ernest in the twenty-third. The youth described it last night as a "soft, inviting sort of look."

And so in the presence of a score of guests, Ernest Rice and Mrs. Marie Milan, were married in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church in Dunellen, N. J., by the Rev. Dr. E. H. West, Harry Brown.

MANAGED STORE.
And since all this became known, Ernest has taken over the management of the prosperous little grocery and confectionery store in the nearby town of Arbor, N. J., and the reported $25,000 bequeathed the Widow Milan by her thirty husband of twenty-five years, Henry.

Purchaser, she has changed her will and made Ernest sole heir, but he explained:

"However, Marie and I have an understanding. Should I survive her, all her money comes a little for my mother, who is blind, is to go to charity. My father, Charles Rice, my mother and my seven brothers."

I hope dad is onto his job—
Hope he'll start
A savings account
For your truly—
Just to celebrate
My first New Year
You bet I'd do
The same for him!

Such "long-term" savings are best insured in a Mutual Savings Bank. It's a security the fund will be ready and waiting for the youngster when he is ready for it. Mutual Banks are regulated by laws which insure the soundest banking.

There is a Mutual Savings Bank in your neighborhood. Look for this seal.

Dog Aids Luck

Wife of Philip Herman, son of a wealthy contractor, arrested when she embezzled the glass door of an attorney's office when she "went there to collect $2,000 back alimony," she was released from prison when a lawyer raised bail for her, she says her luck has turned. She attributes the change in her dog, Buddy, who she says, guarded her when she occupied Central Park benches and kept her from jumping into the lake.

most of whom live in Brooklyn, though she approves of my marriage.

CALDS WIFE JEWEL.
"Marie is worth a dozen of them fluffy young things. I have known her two years, ever since I came to New York to visit my aunt, Mrs. Charles G. Weinbaum, who lives here. I didn't marry for money. I have had other chances, many of them in fact two widows of thirty-five and forty, both also named Mary by the way—wanted to marry me."

"But I realized that they in the kitchen that Marie was the girl for me. She is lively and looks far less than her age, while I look older."

"I don't smoke or drink, but I do love to much candy. That is my only bad habit."

"Now we are going to live our lives in our own way. We shall have no children. One of my brothers has seven, another six—their families are supposed to support their families have taught me a lesson."

SUBMARINE OFF ON CRUISE OF 10,000 MILES
Fifty British Tars Start on a Record Voyage to Mediterranean and Red Seas
London, Jan. 2.—About fifty men start today in the submarine K-26 on the longest voyage ever undertaken by a British submarine without a secret ship, says the Daily Mail. The cruise, which is to be mainly for experimental purposes, will cover about 10,000 miles, taking the craft from Portsmouth through the Mediterranean and Red Seas and return.

The K-26 is the largest British submarine in commission. She displaces 2,140 tons and is said to be the finest vessel of her craft in the world.

PETE CONKLIN, OLD CIRCUS CLOWN, DIES
New York, Jan. 2.—Pete Conklin, the oldest circus clown and jester, is dead at the Polytechnic Hospital, following a surgical operation. He was eighty-two years old.

Mr. Conklin had been associated with the show business for seventy years. He had appeared with the Equity Players in "Queen Victoria" at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre.

WORCESTER P. O. IN $1,000,000 CLASS
Worcester, Jan. 2.—Postmaster James P. Italy announced that the figures compiled at the Worcester Postoffice show that for the year 1923 the office exceeded by $12,000 the amount necessary to bring it into the $1,000,000 class of postoffices. The total business of the past year was $1,042,000.

ELECTRICIANS AT SPRINGFIELD STRIKE
Springfield, Jan. 2.—Following a strike at Springfield from 9:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m., the electricians went on strike here. The previous agreement fixing a rate of 35 cents an hour at midnight. The strikers said that five contractors who have agreed to meet the men's demands will be supplied with help.

ASKS RELEASE OF DE VALERA AS WITNESS

U. S. Attorney Seeks to Question Him About $500,000 Fund in Litigation Here

Dublin, Jan. 2.—Attorney Francis X. who is here on behalf of the American Council of Irish Republicans to examine Eamon De Valera, Austin Stack and Robert Barton in connection with the discredited claim to $500,000 in Irish funds, which are the subject of litigation in the United States, has applied to the Irish State government for the release of De Valera and Stack so for the purpose to visit them in person. He says he has received no reply.

Barton, who was recently set free, can be interrogated.

There is some speculation here as to whether the others will be released on parole or examined in jail preparatory to the formal submission of evidence in the case before the American Consul-General in Ireland in accordance with the ruling of Justice Wagner of the New York Supreme Court, who decided that De Valera, Stack and Barton should be examined as witnesses.

mander Is Reinstated

Clinton, Jan. 2.—The officers and members of the James B. Kirby Post, American Legion, who are opposed to the reinstatement in the post of ex-State Commander James T. Duane, as endorsed by State Commander Clarence R. Edwards, are expected to resign.

At the meeting Thursday night, climax and opponents of Major Duane, who was suspended from the post because he questioned the pay-

Jump Of H. C. L. Ushers 1924 In To Paris

Paris, Jan. 2.—(Universal).—
An all round increase in the cost of living was the gift that all Frenchmen found on their doorsteps for the next year.

Official increases were announced for street cars, subways, motor buses, and industrial, while bread, butter, meat, fat, and potatoes all suddenly leaped to hitherto unknown prices.

And Kenneth Tokman, a student in the College at Brown's University, died of burns received when her dress caught when she was burning rubber in the yard of her home.

By MADAME "DEJA THIERRE"
I do not see anything but gloom for the first few months, but both the political and international situations will grow better towards the end of the year.

America will suffer tremendous losses from floods in the Middle West.
In February, America will clash with a rival sea power. There will be talk of war but it will all be smoothed over by the fact of President Coolidge.

By JACQUES BENTENAU
The year 1924 will be a year of reparation for war which will break out in 1925 between the two great powers of the world.
The coming summer will be the lastest since 1914 in Europe, marking the conclusion of several events in the Olympic games.
The Middle West of America will suffer crop disasters. A city on the Pacific coast of America will be completely destroyed by an earthquake.

By MARIE PUCINI
Famous unknown whose predictions are interesting during France and who is controlled by the Paris Metaphysical Society.

It is an unusual weather for all parts of the world during the year 1924. I foresee the death of a great statesman before the end of the year, the death of a former American President.

There will be a great ocean disaster in which more than a thousand lives will be lost. There will be earthquakes in Italy and Southern Africa.

The international situation will grow better, and not before it grows worse.

Russia will rule England. Cen-trals will be the first British colony to break away from the Empire and will be followed by Australia and South Africa.

erican government has abandoned any idea it may have had of demanding a public apology of the British government as a condition of the resumption of the American consulate at Nicosia.

At the same time, at the consent of the American consul at Nicosia, the consulate of the United States at Nicosia will be moved to within British territory, and, instead of being removed, any restriction will be lifted.

Consulate will rule England. Cen-

TEXAS WARRANT FOR IRVIN S. COBB

Houston, Tex., Jan. 2.—Local officers are holding a warrant charging violation of the State game law against Irvin S. Cobb, New York writer.

The warrant, sworn out at Warren, Tex., charges that ten years ago Cobb violated the law by securing a hunting license in the name of J.
H. Davis and that he used a resident license, owing to it, when he should have had a 15-day resident license.

It was understood today that Cobb was leaving for Oklahoma.

GAS COMPANY EMPLOYEES HAVE NO WORRIES ABOUT FUTURE

Pensions, Profit-Sharing and Life Insurance Not Philanthropic—Straight Business Proposition, Says Gas Company's President—Means
Better and More Efficient Employees—
Means Better Service to Public
And Lower Costs

Officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company are convinced that employees who are concerned about the future, particularly their old-age and, and see for themselves no prospect of having a little nest egg to fall back upon are not highly efficient employees and cannot render good service to the customers, because their minds are too much taken up with their own problems to give careful thought and attention to the business of their employers and the public.

Appreciating the fact that such problems detract from the efficiency of workers, the directors of the company some time ago adopted a Pension Plan. For similar reasons the company has also provided profit-sharing with employees in operation since 1906 and also provided group insurance for all its employees. True, worry about the future is a natural factor in the lives of gas company employees.

Employees are stimulated to better work and an effort to reduce expenses and also to save permanently in the company's employ. This fact the company officials regard as highly important for they believe the longer a man is employed with a concern the better and more efficient workman he is.

Under the Pension Plan, employees of the company are eligible to a pension—men at sixty-five years of age and women at sixty—on the basis of the length of their service with the company. For 10 or more years is eligible to pension in the event of total disability from accident or other cause.

Pensions are figured on the basis of the average salary for the 10 years previous to becoming eligible for pension or disabled, two per cent of the average yearly salary for the last 10 years being paid for each year of service with the company. Under the plan an employee of 35 years' service would be entitled to 75 per cent of his average salary during the last 10 years of his employment.

At the present time the company has on its pension list 13 names, with an average service payment of 34 years or 72 per cent of the average salary. Each employee paid during the year 1923 a contribution of one per cent of his salary to the fund. The plan is voluntary, and the company has no obligation to pay more than the amount of the contribution. The plan is a straight business proposition, and the company has no obligation to pay more than the amount of the contribution.

Are You Slipping?

MOST men begin to "slip" at about 35 or 40. Many women begin to lose their youth at 25. Animation, vivacity, disappears.

Life is slipping away from people of this sort. They are accumulating death in the form of minute cells that clog the tissues and handicap the functional processes.

So many people start out in life full of ambition and enthusiasm. They are stirred with thoughts of great things that they intend to accomplish.

But when they begin to slip all is changed. Life becomes a hard drive. Pleasurable moments are few and far between. Every day is prosaic, commonplace, and at times hard to endure.

It is at such times that suicide becomes inviting. If you are engaged in business you soon find yourself in a rut—you cannot advance, you are on a downward path.

Your home life is unsatisfactory; and a home to deserve the name demands vigorous fatherhood and splendid motherhood.

When health disappears from the home, happiness goes also.

A man, when he begins to "slip," slowly but surely loses his business acumen; his ability deteriorates —his masculinity follows suit. And without virility or business foresight, life in these strenuous days is a hard task-master.

You actually begin to die on your feet. Death stalks by your side. God help the family that depends upon a father or a mother who is so benighted as to accept with equanimity the verdict that he or she is "slipping."

Theman or woman whose "slipping" cannot blame anybody else. The fault always lies within yourself.

You have transgressed the laws of life and health—you are paying a penalty you richly deserve. You are dying because you deserve to die. Wake up to your possibilities!

Every human entity is entitled to vigorous, pulsating, vital health. Ignorance and carelessness are the cause of "slipping," and premature death is the result, not in occasional, but in all instances.

Read PHYSICAL CULTURE if you are "slipping" in your business—in your home—in your family life.

Read PHYSICAL CULTURE and get out of the blame fold class as soon as you can. It will open your eyes, expand your reasoning capacities, and bring you in direct and immediate contact with those simple laws of life that you may have outraged almost from the day of your birth.

"Ten Minutes a Day Cured His Constipation"

He was pale, irritable, nervous, couldn't sleep and couldn't eat, had headaches, indigestion and frequent severe colds. Dr. Gray looked him over asked some questions and then talked to him—very plainly. "If of this is due to constipation brought on by the sedentary life you live. You need exercise—must exercise if you don't want to have something wrong with you half the time. Ten minutes a day of the right exercise will make a new man of you." This man took the exercise that Dr. Gray prescribed and recovered promptly. "Ten Minutes a Day Cured His Constipation" is a straight-from-the-shoulder article by Dr. Gray in Physical Culture for January in which he describes and illustrates the exercises that have such splendid results in curing constipation. Read it. It will be good for your soul and better for your body.

"The Flu—How To Avoid and Treat It"

If the worst should happen and the Spanish Influenza does start on another around-the-world jaunt this winter, don't be caught napping, when there are some very definite and effective precautions you can take. It is far easier to leap from catching "flu" than it is to get rid of it once you have it. "The Flu—How To Avoid and Treat It" is a masterly article by Dr. Edwin F. Bowers in which he lays down a set of simple rules, which if followed out should make you immune to flu or any kindred disease. In Physical Culture for January.

"I Owe My Beauty To A Clown"

Once upon a time a young woman went to see a circus. She was a very thin, very languid, underdeveloped young woman. But she was ambitious. She wanted to be a perfect specimen of womanhood—beautiful and vitally alive. She noticed that

"Fasting Will Keep You Young"

In this article Mr. Hastings, Director of the Physical Culture Research Laboratory, tells how you can keep your youthful appearance, or how you can regain it to a great extent if you have already lost it. Of tremendous interest to every man and woman in Physical Culture for January.

"With the Birth of Each of My Babies I Was Born Again"

"If you want to keep your figure don't be afraid of babies or the family wash," says Ruth Stone Blodgett who at 27 years of age has four fine babies and a syphilis figure. Her article in Physical Culture for January supplies practical information of exceptional value to every woman.

"A Slim Angel"

Is the absorbing story of a woman who regained her figure, her vitality and her husband by a liberal application of common sense. Do not fail to read it.

What To Eat On Sunday

Sunday is one day in the week when you can take time to thoroughly enjoy your meals. Rose Small Hill has worked out a series of Sunday dinners that are beautifully balanced, completely satisfying and best of all, quick and easy to prepare. Her article and menus are in Physical Culture for January under the title "That Sunday Dinner."

UNITED STATES OLYMPIC HOCKEY TEAM MAKES DEBUT

WILL PLAY BOSTON CLUB

Hockey fans of Boston have the good fortune to be able to see the American Olympic hockey team in action tonight. The players who will represent this country against Canada and other countries in the great Olympic at France will play against the Boston Hockey Club at the Arena.

It will be the first appearance of the formidable All-American association of hockey. The game is their debut as a team. The U. S. A. champions were as a nucleus and some wonderful hockey stars in the team.

The Boston Hockey Club, with the great George Owen, who proved more than a match for the clever "Jerry" Gern, are not a bit afraid to measure strength, speed and skill against the Olympic team.

It is sure to be a great night for hockey fans in Boston. The game will be well worth attending, for it is the opening of the season to see such a remarkable player on the field. Drury performed it is regarded as the hockey champion. He is sure to furnish thrills. He is sure to be prominent in both attack and defense.

The Olympic team is resolved to make the debut notable, for should they be beaten it will be a damper on their trip abroad.

However, the Boston Hockey Club players have no regard for their feelings on this subject and are not to be with, but to see reflections on their trip abroad.

There are other big hockey matches lined for tomorrow and Friday and Saturday, but this first appearance of the Olympic team to night is a good deal like the first night of a big show. Everybody wants to be there.

There's big interest in the contest and a big demand for seats, but the Arena is making special and can hold a big throng. But those who want good seats should go early and make assurance doubly sure.

STRIKING AGAINST DAVE ROSENBERG

By THOMAS L. CUMMERY
Newark, N. J., Jan. 2.—Yves Striking the gate "George" P. Rosenberg, a Brooklyn bartender, in their first bout at the First Regiment Armory. No official decisions are allowed under the New Jersey law, but it was apparent to all that the Masso had won the fight.

Young Striking, the net head-cutting and boxing Rosenberg with a telling combination of punches to the head and body. Rosenberg was weakened by a heavy blow to the head, but took a heavy blow to the chest.

Striking was full of spirit and apparently tireless and fought around and about Rosenberg after the manner of Harry Grish's "windmill" tactics.

It was agreed by the referee that Striking must pick up a mark in his opponent, but that he showed enough fighting ability to make him in the making of a great fighter.

B. S. ALUMNI BEAT SCHOOL SECTET

Experience and conditions caused the B. S. A. alumni six to defeat the school sextet.

The B. S. A. alumni were unable to cope with the speed displayed by the school sextet for a few dashes down the ice.

The alumni had a snappy passing game, but inability to skate handicapped them. Jimmy Nadeau made several dashes from his net, only to be overruled by his faster opponents.

But Nadeau suffered a bad cut on the left eye as a result of a wild stick. He was able to resume play, however.

The alumni had Eddie Egan, who is a former champion, and Walter Brown of Exeter in the forward line. Egan and Brown were the main force.

Johnny Nadeau and Martin started for the school.

NAVY AND WASHINGTON ELEVENS PLAY TO A 14 TO 14 TIE

WESTERN TEARS ARE LUCKY

Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 2.—In one of the most thrilling exhibitions of modern football, Navy and Washington eleventh played to a 14 to 14 tie in the ninth annual tournament of roses contest before 45,000 spectators.

A bad pass enabled Washington to tie Navy. A lucky break, rather than the blunder of a player, was the cause of the tie. The game was a close one, with both teams showing excellent football.

NAVY OUTPLAYED THEIR OPPONENTS IN THREE PERIODS
Navy outplayed Washington in three periods. The Washington team had the better of the first half, but Navy took control in the second and third halves.

NAVY SCORED FIRST IN SECOND QUARTER
The Navy scored first in the second period when they took out of the eleven successful pass of that half from Cohen and led for a touchdown.

At last, in the second period Washington was up against a rough situation when the playmen rushed the ball to within five yards of the goal line and had three attempts to put it over. But a field and Washington's great kick was the signal for a tremendous outburst.

Unusually, Navy opened the second period with a 40 yard pass and three attempts again scored from Washington's 11 and 20. STOOD TRY WAS LATE.
It stood that way until the last of the fourth period. It seemed to be a certain Navy win. The ball was in the hands of the Navy, and they were about to score.

INCIDENTAL OF THE GAME
The game was a close one, with both teams showing excellent football. The Navy's defense was particularly strong, and they kept Washington's offense at bay for much of the game.

CAPTAIN'S SHIP CONSIDERED FOR TASK

Other Experts Hint Big Drifts Lack Necessary Buoyancy for Arctic Adventure

By FRANK J. TITMUS

New York, Jan. 2.—The ship Shenandoah, commanded by Captain Albert G. Carter, is being considered for the task of reaching the North Pole, but other experts hint that the ship lacks the necessary buoyancy for such an Arctic adventure.

Frank J. Titmus, a well-known naval architect and engineer, has written a book, "The Shenandoah and the Arctic Expedition," in which he expresses his doubts about the ship's ability to withstand the ice and cold of the Arctic.

He says that the ship's hull is too light and that it will not be able to support the weight of the ice and the crew. He also says that the ship's engines are not powerful enough to drive it through the ice.

Despite these objections, the Navy has decided to send the Shenandoah to the Arctic. The ship will be accompanied by the Thetis and the Albatross, and will be commanded by Captain Carter.

The expedition will start in March and will last for about a year. The ship will be loaded with supplies and will have a crew of about 30 men.

The Navy hopes to reach the North Pole by June. If successful, the expedition will be the first to reach the pole by ship.

The Shenandoah is a ship of the United States Navy. It was built in 1909 and is now 12 years old.

The ship is 210 feet long and 27 feet wide. It has a displacement of 1,000 tons.

The ship is powered by two engines, each of 1,000 horsepower. It has a top speed of 15 knots.

The ship is armed with two 3-inch guns and has a crew of 30 men.

The ship is now in the yard at Groton, Conn., where it is being prepared for the Arctic expedition.

The ship will leave Groton in March and will arrive in the Arctic in June.

The ship will be the first to reach the North Pole by ship.

PINERO PLAY REVIVED AT SELWYN

"Sweet Lavender" Given Excellent Presentation by English Cast

By NICHOLAS TOLSON
FASHIONS in plays like those in show, stage and screen, change with advancing seasons. That was the one distinct impression you gathered at the Selwyn last evening while the English cast of "Sweet Lavender" did its best to hold your interest and make you believe that in the good old days the theatre rose to noble heights in human attraction.

In all candor it must be conceded that we were not convinced enough Anthony Gordon and his English company played hard and earnestly in a drama that more than held its own against the field more than a generation ago. "Sweet Lavender" did its best to hold your interest and make you believe that in the good old days the theatre rose to noble heights in human attraction.

Back to the good Victorian days of 1841 "Sweet Lavender" shared with "The Sign of the Cross" the honors of a roaring success at the Boston Museum. It was almost a dramatic canon that it was one of the pin-pointed plays of the period that it didn't show itself as a play, it was a thrill. It is just one of those things of the past, like the English school, that is left for the backward reflection of old-kind of people who grow at the junction of mystery play and tragedy to commit murder at the sight of an up-to-date play on the screen.

There are still points of human interest in "Sweet Lavender," however middle-aged and old. Of course, there is the betrayed woman and her loving daughter, now grown to beautiful womanhood in complete ignorance of her mother's murk. And the young lover is also present and will not be turned from his purpose. In spite of everything he will marry the girl, although he doesn't know all that is known, especially in particular that his one lover father is the gentle, excellent cast.

Mr. Gordon himself played admirably a role that carried all the elements of the well-known "Old Man" in a time when lifting was a fine art and not contrary to statutes. Miss Whitely made a noble and justified mother, striving to shield her child and Dorothy Fletcher, as the unhappy subject of all the trouble, gave ample proof that ignorance in worldly matters was her prime quality. Sydney Paxton, if there were David, Joseph Dill and Leslie Miles, fitly George Wain and Allen Stoffer, played up further business in the story and remained with them to the end.

"Sweet Lavender" is a drama of scandal in an old-fashioned setting. In its own time the play was undoubtedly responded with a knowing lift of an eyebrow, an exchange of winks will answer the purpose.

"LET'S GO" TAKES GAYETY BY STORM
In "Let's Go" at the Gayety Theatre, there are fifteen actors and so wide in this range that it gives the scenic artist an opportunity to show their skill with the result that some gorgeous effects have been produced. The play is a thriller that has been adapted to an animal play in the pyramids.

In the case of "The Girl" Miss King and Pat White are comedians up to standard in originality and method, while Nan Palmer, Elton Madison, Florence Kane and Miss Florida are principal parts of the play. Undoubtedly attractive to many of the Selwyn's seven hundred and Little Jim, the trained bear, offer entertaining novelties that assist the favor of the crowd. The "Tiller Girls" danced with charming grace and in a feature which is a particularly appealing feature of the happy displays.

SNAPPY NEW YEAR'S BILL AT KEITH'S
The New Year's week bill at J. P. Keith's is made up of a little of the best of everything, the beautiful "The White Sister" being the main attraction. In the music hall of old England Boston took to "The White Sister" with a vengeance, and the play has been seen since. J. Francis Denby and Corinne Smith contribute to the happy numbers, Alma Nilsson's dancing act stands out in the form of a thousand features of the kind, and the "Tiller Girls" add into a dashing bicycle act.

GOOD TOOLS ARE NECESSARY IN RADIO WORK

The Boston Elevated is running a few broadcast stations, too. I suppose a loop picks up all the street cars, but you ought to hear the street cars pounding past my house. The cars make a noise on my loud speaker like the bombardment of Metz. The trolley broadcasting is due to five things, poor contact of the trolley

A new era in radio broadcasting, eliminating astatic and interference as is mentioned, according to Secretary of Commerce Hoover and General George O. Squier, chief signal officer of the army. Following an announcement by Secretary Hoover.

I listened yesterday afternoon to the Wilbur concert broadcasted by WNAC. The old set was working to the queen's taste, and the music came through sweet and mellow.

The new system, which is the practical application of General Spuler's wired-wireless broadcasting (first demonstrated eighteen months ago in his Washington, D. C., station), consists of broadcasting by a carrier current of matter from a studio in a building

T. H. McElroy, the wizard at taking high-speed Continental. I understand, has been approaching by so many broadcast listeners to tell them the trick so that they can get interference on broadcast wave lengths, that he is opening a little plant.

The wires of the company reaching to practically every home in the community, make it possible for each subscriber to plug in a simple radio receiving set and dependable news and entertainment in any room in the house without any interference.

A nominal charge for the service—about half the charge for a phone call—is levied on companies. It is understood, it is held that legally, the companies can sue "wire tap-pers" for cutting in on the circuit.

Secretary Hoover sees in the innovation considerable relief in the rule interference now marked in the segment in the ether, while sub-scout officers conducted a successful experiment recently showing how radio might be used by scouts in searching for lost persons.

As the test was to be made similar to a real emergency a dummy man was made and hidden in the woods outside Hartford, Conn. The scoutmasters announced to their troops that a detained man had left his home in a neighboring city and attended to the details of organizing a searching party. The scouts assembled at a given point and set up their portable radio and other evidences of recent occupancy had been discovered. The scouts were then directed to search the woods to the north, where the figure of a dummy was found leaning against a tree. Three shrill blasts of a scout whistle announced the find.

LECTURE IN BOSTON

A lecture will be given in the Scenic Auditorium, Berkeley street, on Monday night by the Rev. Fr. Denis Gidea, R. D., C. C., on the life of the late Admiral William Brown of the Argentine Navy. Admiral Brown is, according to reports, known in America as the "Father of the Navy." He was born in Ireland and received his nautical training in the United States Merchant Marine. Dr. James T. Gallagger of Charlestown will preside. Five Commissioner Theodore Glynn will probably represent the city of Boston. United States Senator David I. Walsh has been invited to sing the parody in a ward occupied only by himself in the Polyclinic Hospital he fell back in a coma and remained as if asleep until he died today.
